

ASSOCIATE OF APPLIED BUSINESS DEGREE

MEDICAL OFFICE MANAGEMENT

Medical office managers are needed in business today. This program provides instruction in many aspects of the medical field, including the use of microcomputers with document processing and medical office software and an introduction to billing and coding. Additional general education courses provide a broad background for the graduate. The sequence of major offerings starts summer and fall quarters.

MISSION STATEMENT:

The Office Technologies Department provides quality instruction to students by preparing them to be successful and productive community and business leaders while emphasizing employability skills and personal attributes.
